COLLEGE BOYS STATEMENT

Of Their Side of the Ketchum Disturbance

Correct Misstatements and Explain That It Was All
Due to Class Rivalry

The unfortunate occurrence of the arrest of two Willamette boys during a demonstration of class rivalry has turned out to be doubly deplorable since it has developed that the boys were not guilty of any crime whatever.

The second year class gathered about 9 o'clock on the front steps of Dr. Ketchum's residence, where the first years were having a class party, and serenaded them with songs and class yells, this being a custom observed by colleges of any note all over the United States.

Soon those inside tired of the noise, and, instead of requesting the crowd to disperse, they threw water on them from an upstairs window. The boys below returned the fire with some apple cores, which those in the window caught and returned.

Meanwhile some of the boys tried to get into the kitchen and capture the refreshments, but found the doors locked.

About this time an alarm was sent in to the county sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Skipton says that the report was that a lot of men were trying to break into the house, having broken down one door, and were trying to break down another. It was described as if something awful was happening. Skipton secured an assistant, and hustled to the scene, expecting a battle. Although the reporters have stated that the house was being taken by storm, when the sheriff arrived, he could find nothing alarming going on, and even started to enter the house to see if the supposed marauders were inside.

On being told at the door that they were still outside, he started around the house, and found Moss Averill returning an apple core, which had just hit him from an upper window. Simpson was in the basement, still looking for a passage to the kitchen. These two were immediately arrested. The rest of the class were gathered in groups on the walk and on the lawn.

Dr. Ketchum and family, as well as the first year class, all denied any responsibility for the calling of the of ficer, and refused to swear out a complaint against the boys, and so Skipton, in order to save himself from liability, swore out a complaint, charging them with disturbing an assembly of people. He did this only after Justice Horgan had assured him and two students that the case would simply be continued. Acting on this promise from Horgan, the boys were advised to plead guilty, and thus end the whole matter at once. Had they known that they would have been fined, they would have plead not guilty, for it would have been impossible to convict them, since not a single witness can be found to testify against them.

peared concerning the incident. The class came for the purpose of getting the refreshments—that being the dare thrown out by the first year—and not for the purpose of getting possession of the house, as has been reported. They did not take the house by storm, but were orderly, they did not smash a single door, destroy any property or force an entrance. They are not "hoodlums," but among the best and most favorably known men of the school, and were only doing what has always been done at class parties.

An Interesting Meeting.

One of the most interesting and enthusiastic meetings held by any lodge organization in this city this season was that in the Holmen halls last night, when State Organizer Geo. K. Rogers, of the Woodmen of the World, appeared before Salem Camp No. 118, of that order, and in one of the ablest addresses ever delivered before that organization, told the members of the splendid work being done throughout the jurisdiction, under the inspiration of the leadership of that great organizer, Head Consul Falkenberg. He detailed the good results attained everywhere, and concluded by a fine tribute to the charitable work, showing that, outside of the insurance paid, the order, in its 13 years of history, has expended over one million dollars that does not appear on the records. He urged Salem Camp to take part in the campaign for an increase in membership from 90,000 to 100,000, and in the reserve fund from $700,000 to $1,000,000. The matter was at once taken up, and it was decided to set the mark for increase at 100 members in this camp, and this was agreed to by unanimous vote, amid the greatest enthusiasm. Following the regular formal meeting, the ladies of the Women of Woodcraft had gathered, and Mr. Rogers again addressed the gathering, giving a most fraternal talk that was enjoyed by all, at the conclusion of which the entire company adjourned to the banquet room, where a fine spread of good things had been provided, and was enjoyed. It was one of the happiest gatherings ever held in the Salem lodge rooms, and Mr.

Rogers' visit will long be remembered as an inspiration by the Salem "Woodmen."

Another Hop Suit.

Benjamin Schwarz & Sons, the New York hop buyers, who have an agency in this city, under the control of Jos. Harris, yesterday afternoon brought suit against Lee Gon, a Chinaman, and Perry L. Kenady, of Woodburn, for the recovery of 86 bales of hops, bought by the plaintiffs, and which, it is alleged, the defendants have wrongfully withheld from the plaintiffs. The Messrs Schwarz ask for the possession of the hops, or, as an alternative, that they be awarded $2786.40, the value of the hops, and $100 damages. Sheriff Colbath left last night for Woodburn, where he found the hops in question in the Southern Pacific warehouse, attached them, and placed them in charge of a care-taker, pending the disposition of the suit to determine the equities in the case.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat not because they want to, but simply because they must. They know they are irritable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise. They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, an uneasy feeling of puffiness, headache, heartburn and what not. The effective remedy, proved by permanent cures of thousands of severe cases, is
